VITA DESIGN GROUP

"Design is a living and organic thing," says Lucien Vita, principal at Vita Design Group in Westport, Connecticut. "I never know what to expect at the start of a project. It's the process of discovering that is most exciting for me and my client." For Vita, architecture spans many levels by pushing boundaries yet achieving creative unity between the design team and client. His clean lines and earthy interiors embody modernity and embrace sustainability—a perfect hybrid for ex-urbanites who want to go beyond traditional spaces. To achieve this living environment, Vita relies on visual equilibrium and flow. "You don't always need to play it safe," he says. "By exploring creative possibilities of design you can strike the perfect balance." Vita's knack for utilizing just the right details and materials, as well as an exceptional understanding of scale, is what makes his work lavish without having to rely on opulence and excess. "Luxury is getting exactly what you want," he says.

"Our firm is a group of modernists at heart. We thrive on the endless possibility for creativity in modern design."
